CARTHAGE ADDS $2,075 TO THE WAR RELIEF FUND

Sum of $1,706 Contributed at Mass Meeting Last Night and Raised Today, as Well as Report From Milroy Showing Over $3,550 Subscribed in Anderson Township to Noon Today, Expected to Stimulate Meeting Here Tonight.

PARADE TO BE MADE TO COLISEUM

Plum Creek Raises $190 at Meeting Wednesday Night and Canvassers Work to Get More

OTHER TOWNSHIP MEETINGS

Will be Held at Osborne School in Jackson Township and Raleigh Friday Night

The report from Carthage where $1,706 was raised for war relief at a Red Cross mass meeting last night and the news of additions to the Anderson township war relief which today totalled more than $3,550, are expected to act as a stimulant to the Red Cross mass meeting at the Coliseum tonight and arouse Rushville and vicinity to do a fine thing in the campaign which is being waged this week for the Rush county allotment of $10,500 to the Red Cross War Relief fund of $100,000,000.

Carthage in a short time last night, after a brief address by E. B. Thomas, subscribed $1,706 and up to noon today the fund for that community had been raised to $1,825, the sum of $119 having been subscribed this morning. Judge Will M. Sparks conducted the raising of the money.

A war relief mass meeting was also held at Plum Creek where the Rev. C. M. Yocum and A. L. Gary spoke last night. Thirty-two members were added to the Plum Creek auxiliary and $190 was raised for war relief. The community has been districted and canvassers will be busy the remainder of the week.

By Sunday night a Red Cross mass meeting in the interests of the war relief fund will have been held in every township but Richland and an effort is being made to arrange a meeting for that place some time this week.

The Center church meeting will be held Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The speakers for the meeting have not been announced. A meeting for the same purpose will be held at Raleigh Sunday afternoon and Friday night. A. L. Gary and E. B. Thomas will speak.

Preparations have been made for a big demonstration tonight at seven-thirty o'clock preceding the mass meeting at the Coliseum. The Odd Fellows band has donated its services and will lead the parade to the park. Every citizen is urged to take part and not stand on the sidelines and watch the marchers go by. It is pointed out by Red Cross workers that people can show their sincerity of purpose in helping the county raise its share in no better way than by marching and attending the meeting tonight.

The program at the Coliseum will be brief. Some patriotic songs will be sung and then the business of the meeting will be taken up promptly. E. B. Thomas will explain the purpose of the gathering briefly and the subscriptions will be opened. The team captains in Rushville township are expected to be stationed throughout the audience and supply subscription cards and report

Red Cross Fair Ready to Open

Booths Are Erected Today and Tent Put up For Home Talent Show, Which Will Include Jess Pugh, Hale Pearsey, Francis Coyne, Girls Chorus and Ukulele Club. Dance by Knights of Columbus Tonight

MANY ASK FOR BOOTHS NOW

Preparations were completed this afternoon for the opening tonight of the Red Cross fair, which will be held in and adjoining the Knights of Pythias building at the corner of Main and second streets. Booths were erected on the lawn facing the sidewalk on the north side of the building and Glen Miller's tent was erected in Morgan street in front of the K. of P. building for the home talent show.

All of the booths put up have been taken and many more demands for booths than can be filled have been received. In addition to those mentioned yesterday who will have booths, are: Queen Esther girls of St. Paul's M. E. church who will sell candy; Eddie Carter's crackerjack stand; John P. Frazee's class of girls of Christian Sunday school, who will sell flowers.

The women of the Red Cross auxiliaries at Glenwood and Plum Creek have announced that they will be at the fair Saturday and will conduct markets, selling farm produce of all kinds. The women of the New Salem auxiliary will also hold a market Saturday.

Arrangements have been completed for the Psi Iota Xi sorority to serve a lunch tomorrow evening instead of the usual penny supper, which will be given tonight by the Ladies Aid societies of the M. E. and Baptist churches and the W. R. C., and on Saturday night by the Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and Encampment.

Rushville's best talent will take part in the vaudeville show which will be staged for three successive nights, tonight, Friday and Saturday in the tent directly east of the K. of P. building, under the auspices of Psi Iota Xi. One show will be given this evening following the band concert, which will be given immediately after the mass meeting at the Coliseum. Tomorrow and Saturday evening, several shows will be given. There will be changes of program for each evening.

Jess Pugh is training a chorus of girls for several unique little musical numbers, among them a clever "take-off" on grand opera in which Mr. Pugh takes the solo part. Hale Pearsey is to appear with some of his popular monologues and solos. Francis Coyne is to sing each evening. The "Black Eyed Susan" chorus which was a popular number in the Red Cross operetta given recently will be on the program with Miss Kathryn Giffin as soloist. The high school ukulele club will give several numbers on Saturday evening.

Washington, June 21—There were approximately 3,000,000 subscriptions to the Liberty Loan and the average subscription was $1,000 according to figures at loan headquarters today. The average is higher than the loans heretofore floated by any belligerent. Germany in her loan issues has averaged only $71. SUBMARINE SUNK BY U. S. DESTROYER

U-Boat is Rammed When She is Sighted by One of American Flotilla in British Waters

GERMAN-BORN SAILOR HELPS

By J. W. PEGLER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the American Naval Flotilla in British Waters, June 21.—A German submarine was rammed and sunk by an American destroyer after a German born American sailor pointed out the U-boat, according to stories told by the crew of the American vessel, which returned to port today. The submarine submerged immediately after she was sighted by the destroyer. The American vessel was so close to the spot where the submarine had been sighted that guns could not be used.

Sailors scanned the waters for the submarine. Finally the German born sailor pointed out the U-boat directly alongside the destroyer. The American vessel was immediately turned around and those on board declared they felt the collision, but even if the submarine was not rammed another anti-submarine device which was brought into use finished the work.

SUIT SEEKS TO PUT END TO TRUSTEESHIP

Granddaughters of Late Augustus Glidden File Action, Raising New Question For Court

TRUSTEE AIKEN RESIGNS

A suit to terminate the trusteeship under the will of the late Augustus Glidden was filed in circuit court this afternoon, by Douglas Morris, representing Augusta B. Brownell and Mary S. Archer, granddaughters of the late Mr. Glidden. Mr. Glidden died in 1896 and in his will created a trust fund whereof the two plaintiffs were to receive the proceeds from 652 acres of land owned by him at the time of his death. The trusteeship has been in effect ever since and only recently Edson L. Aiken resigned as trustee and the estate is at present without a trustee.

The suit will prove an interesting one as the legal question regarding the termination of a trusteeship has never been in the court here. The plaintiffs allege that they came in rightful possession of the land when they reached the age of 21 years and that the trusteeship is contrary to the law of perpetuities. The defendants named in the suit are Amos F. Glidden, Mary Glidden, Frederick E. Glidden, Adaline C. Glidden, Helen M. Glidden, Julia Glidden, George Brownell, Rozzie E. Archer and Ira Glidden.

Washington, June 21—Amidst the cheers of a small crowd, a banner denouncing the president and Elihu Root, placed at a gate of the white house today by suffragists was ripped down by two men.

REGISTRATION TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Board Will Sit For Sixty Days, in Room on Second Floor of Court House

THREE WAYS TO REGISTER

Absolutely Imperative That Every Man and Woman Who Wants to Vote Should Register

The county registration board for the special election to be held on September 18 when delegates to the constitutional convention will be named, will open its sixty-day session tomorrow in the commissioner's room in the court house. It is imperative that all voters, both men and women, register if they wish to participate in the delegate election, as former registrations will not be taken into consideration.

The registration clerks are Miss Frances Frazee and Will Newbold. They will have actual charge of the registration and the work will be supervised by the registration board proper, composed of Clerk George B. Moore, Jr., Verne W. Norris and Donald Smith. All of the registration supplies have been received, including the blank forms and the books for the permanent record of the voters.

Three methods of registering will be followed at this session of the board. The voter may register by going in person before the board; by causing his application for registering properly made out and executed to be delivered by messenger to the board, and by mailing the application properly made to the board. In the last two methods it is necessary that the voter make oath or affirmation before some officer authorized to administer oaths and who has an official seal. A notary public can acknowledge the signature of the applicant and the form is then mailed to the board.

A fourth way to register is provided in the law but it will not be needed at this registration. Hereafter the registration books will be in the various precincts at a primary election and a voter moving or unregistered can register at that time. This, however, will have nothing to do with this registration.

The applications for registering contain a large number of questions. Before a voter's name is entered for registration he must cause the blank to be filled giving his full name, the county, city or town or township in which he resides; if he knows, he shall state the name or the number of the precinct, ward or township in which he resides; he shall state where he resided in the last two years, where he was born and the date of his or her birth; and also the place of residence two years prior to the making of the application.

HANDLES GRAY WITHOUT GLOVES

P. J. Lynch Recalls Democratic Candidate's Record in Congress as Opposed to Preparedness

ALWAYS VOTED AGAINST IT

Points to Candidate of Republican Party as Competent Man Sworn to Uphold Government

While the community social was being held at the M. P. church across the way, P. J. Lynch of Newcastle addressed a crowd of more than two hundred persons at the New Salem school house last night, advocating the election of Richard N. Elliott of Connersville, republican candidate for congress.

The republicans took the band to New Salem and a short concert was given in front of the school building and in the auditorium. John A. Titworth presided and introduced the speaker. The chairman said that in this brief campaign, the small guns had been dropped and the republicans were using the 42 centimeters to emphasize the importance of the issues.

Mr. Lynch handled Finly Gray's record during his six years in congress without gloves. He recalled that while in congress, Gray was one of the leaders of the anti-preparedness group, whose opposition to preparedness is responsible for the United States not being prepared today to share its part of the war.

"I have known the generosity of Rush county people before," said Mr. Lynch, "when I was a candidate for congress, but now I am a private in the ranks."

"These are war times. It is hard to make a campaign speech. In these times we are neither republicans or democrats but want to uphold the hands of the president. I am also conscious of this. These are busy times on the farm. You are behind in your work. For that reason it is a splendid sign to see so many men and women here after a busy day in the fields to hear a discussion of the issues. So after all, it appears that it is not partisanship but patriotism that impels men—a desire to do what is right for their country."

"I am here to discuss whether Mr. Elliott or Mr. Gray is the better man to elect to congress. I am competent to judge because I have had the honor to run against Mr. Gray. I wish to say that Mr. Gray is not competent."

"The republican party built up the defenses of the country and when the democratic party came into power, it began to tear them down. The work of years for preparedness was undermined. Mr. Gray voted against a preparedness program when opportunity was given to him. Do we want to send a

New Salem Community Social Proves to Be a Happy Affair

Approximately Hundred Machines go From Here and Large Crowd Hears Program in Church

SUM OF $81.60 IS TAKEN IN

New Salem had the largest crowd in its history last night; everyone who has lived there for many years freely admitted that last night. The community social, augmented by a political meeting, took hundreds of people to the fine little village in the center of Noble township where they enjoyed a fine program and ate ice cream and cake until the supply of the former was exhausted and a machine had to be sent back to Rushville for more. The sum of $81.60 was taken in.

The ice cream festival was given by the Methodist Protestant church of New Salem in conjunction with the Rushville merchants. The number of automobiles going from here for the festival was conservatively estimated at one hundred. The streets leading to the church were jammed with machines until traffic was stopped.

A short program was given in the church after the political meeting closed. B. F. Miller complimented the people of New Salem and vicinity on the fine crowd and the excellent spirit which prevailed at the community meeting. He spoke of the reputation New Salem and vicinity had for good farms, fine homes and

Able-Bodied Men Compelled to Engage in Some Recognized Profession

(By United Press.)

Charleston, W. Va., June 21.—Everybody worked—including father—in West Virginia today. Each consumer was a producer, as well—or a law violator.

Under a law just made effective, every able-bodied man in West Virginia, between the ages of 16 and 60 must engage in some recognized occupation, profession, or employment and contribute to the support of himself and those dependent law.

upon him. Unless men within the prescribed ages work 36 hours a week they are vagrants under the law, which was actively enforced today for the first time. Vagrants are subject to a $100 fine and may be placed at work on the public streets for 60 days or less.

Rich and poor alike are affected—and clipping coupons isn't listed among the legitimate occupations. Fate choose Mike Duty to Father the law, and of course, it's called the Duty law. It had the active support of the State council of Defense and the sanction of the national authorities; for it's an anti-slacker measure. Any male found in the state, whether a citizen of West Virginia or not, is bound by the law.

Advance in Prices Worldwide

The advance in prices, so keenly realized by all the people of the United States, is by no means peculiar to this country, or even to the countries in which war conditions are looked upon as the immediate cause of the higher prices. From the tea fields of Java and India, the tin mines of the Malay Peninsula, the silk areas of China and Japan, the sugar fields of Java, Hawaii and Cuba, the sisal plantations of the Orient, the champagne producing area of France, the cotton fields of Egypt and even the diamond mines of South Africa, come statistical proof of advance in prices of their respective products.

A compilation by the National City Bank of New York of the prices at which varied products of these widely distributed areas are being sold in the places of production, shows that the advance in prices is general.

The United States has peculiar facilities for determining the prices of the world-products in their respective places of production. Her customs laws require that the valuations at which merchandise is imported shall be those of the merchandise in the country from which exported to the United States and not the value on reaching the port at which it enters this country. Thus the values named by the importers of any article, from any part of the world, must be the price at which the goods were sold in the place from which exported to this country, or if the importer does not choose to name the price which he paid for it, then the average price of the article in the wholesale markets of the port from which it was shipped to this country is used in determining the value.

So it is quite feasible to determine the average price at which any given article or class of articles is sold in any country from which imported, and at the same time determine the average world export price, by comparing the total quantity of all the importations of the article in question with the total valuation placed upon it by the importers of the entire quantity.

Such comparisons show in a very large proportion of the cases marked increases in the values, at the place of production, of the merchandise brought into the country. Raw cotton, for example, most of it from Egypt, was imported in March, 1917, at an average price of 31.8 cents per lb. against 16.3 cents in March 1914, a date immediately preceding the war, and these, be it remembered, represent the export price at the port or country from which sent to us. Sisal imports in March of the current year were $302 per ton against $117 in March 1914; copper 29.5c per lb. against 14.1c three years earlier; goat skins 62.2c per lb., against 25.7c three years earlier; choose at an average of 34c per lb., against 17.5c; flax seed at $2.39 per bushel against $1.29; beans at $5.21 per bushel against $1.56; potatoes at $1.77 against 72c three years ago; indigo, at $2.00 per lb., against 15c per lb., in the same months in 1914; logwood at $36.00 per ton against $11.00; combing wool at 48c against 24.6c in March 1914; lead at 6.5c per lb., against 3c; copper at 29.5c against 14.1c three years ago; cotton stockings at $3.27 per dozen paid against $1.27 in March 1914; sugar at exactly double the price of three years ago; currants at an advance of 300%; while cattle hides, manila hemp, raw silk, India rubber, tin, lumber, cotton and woolen cloth and many other articles show advances, some of them as much as 100%. All of these advances occur in the price at which the merchandise in question was sold in the country from which exported to the United States.

Deliver Us From Hatred

There is one vital point upon which we as citizens must guard ourselves in the great contest before us, and that is that there grow not up in our hearts a spirit of hatred toward those in our midst with foreign blood in their veins.

We have said that we are not to prosecute a war of revenge, but a contest for right and justice. This sentiment comes easy enough at this time. The danger will come later, when the real shock of war is felt and grim death fans us with his sable wings as he takes a sin from this home and a husband or brother from that one.

Americans can not afford to harbor hatred, and especially can they not afford animosity toward our citizens of foreign descent. If the citizen of Teutonic blood is loyal to our country, though he grieve at the necessity for war with his fatherland, his burden is heavy enough without the added knowledge or suspicion that he is viewed with antagonism and distrust.

There are some who are unquestionably traitors to the land of their adoption, but they will soon come to their just end. Time will efface them. But their acts should not prejudice in our minds those who are loyal and who are staunchly supporting the government, even though it be with hearts saddened by regrets.

If Americans are even approximately true to their ideals they will not permit the loyal to suffer for the acts of the disloyal. To do so would be to defeat the very aims in view in the struggle before us.

We now are impelled by one consuming desire, the freedom of humanity in its broadest sense, and the greatest freedom to which we can attain is freedom of heart from rancor and bitterness.

No great cause was ever won without martyrdom. Some must suffer greatly, all must suffer some. It is nature's way in which she works out human redemption. But if bitterness and hatred is permitted to creep into the martyrdom and suffering, their uplifting and purifying influence is nullified.

Let us pray to be delivered from all bitterness, that when the contest is ended even our foes may be brought to the light as we see it.

Slackers who sneaked away from registering June 5, and now find themselves facing prison sentences and compulsory military service at the end of their incarceration, will get no sympathy from the public at large. Instead, they will be viewed with scorn and disgust, and to their dying day they will carry the obloquy with which they smeared them-

? NOW WILL YOU LISTEN ?

The prices on buggies are advancing every day and there is no way to stop it. The only remedy is to buy where they have a supply that was purchased before any advance was placed on them. I have the buggies and the price is the same as it was the first of the year. Do you want to save some money on a buggy? If you do, see me. Then again I want you to listen—I have two cars of storm buggies bought. One car will be in about July 1st, and they are the well and favorably known, Zimmerman line, the one line of buggies that no dealer can tell you is not the best to be had. The Zimmerman buggy is the best built buggy and has been for years, and is well known in Rush County, and every man that ever owned a Zimmerman buggy will tell you they give satisfaction. The price I am able to quote you on these storm buggies will interest you, but don't wait until these are sold before you investigate the proposition. Come in now, we have a sample on the floor and will take your order for one and you can get it any time.

Senreco
The double-service tooth paste,
keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the mucin film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—25 cents for a large 2 ounce tube.

man to congress who voted against the very bulwarks of the government?"

Mr. Lynch referred to a conversation he had with Mr. Elliott the Sunday after he was nominated in which the republican candidate said that he would support the government and uphold the president and was for a quick and successful termination of the war.

Mr. Lynch spoke only thirty-five minutes. He closed with a brief review of the economic conditions in the United States after the democrats came in power and before the war opened and emphasized the need of a protective tariff after the war.

"Here we are enjoying an abnormal prosperity," he continued. "Do you think it will continue? Three millions of men now employed in making munitions will be looking for jobs now held by someone else when the war ends. That is the reason why we will need a republican congress to enact a wise tariff to protect our industries and our laboring men."

Mr. Lynch recalled that when the democrats came into power in 1912, after the wise legislation of the republican congress, with all bills paid and the Panama canal practically completed, they found a balance of $176,000,000 in the treasury. In one short year of democratic policies, he said, there was a deficit in the treasury of $50,000,000 and in eighteen months many millions more. On every one of these measures, reducing the U. S. treasury to a large deficit, Mr. Gray voted yes, the speaker recalled. He cited the effects of the Underwood tariff law and pointed out how the war saved the day for the democratic party by converting the United States into a nation of munitions makers. He pointed out that Germany was fighting the world and sustaining herself and that England, for a thousand years, had been able to sustain herself without a hostile foot being set on her shores. He then asked if anyone thought these nations would need the help of the United States after all of the

NEW PEST DESTROYS BIG FIELD OF CORN

Twenty Acre Crop On J. K. Gowdy Farm Eaten up in 3 Days by Worm Unknown in The Locality

SPECIMEN SENT TO PURDUE

A new pest, at least one not known to the farmers in that locality, has appeared in Posey township in the form of a small worm which is destroying some of the corn. The worm attacks the corn from the top, eating its way down to the heart of the stock.

A twenty-acre field of new ground on the farm of John K. Gowdy on which a crop of rye was turned under this spring and planted in corn on May 28, has been so seriously injured as to necessitate it being plowed up and replanted. Within three days after its appearance in the field of corn, the entire crop was practically destroyed.

The worms first appeared in the corn on low lying land when the ground was very damp from the recent rains, and in a few days they spread over the entire field.

The pest, specimens of which have been forwarded to Purdue university, is in the form of a small worm about one inch long, light in color on both ends and dark in the center.

efficient methods they had learned because of the war.

"It is the duty of every person," he declared in conclusion, "to go to the polls next Tuesday and help to guarantee the peace and perpetuity of this republic and vote for Mr. Elliott. The republican party was never needed before as in this crisis and the one that will follow after the war."

NEXT MEETING AT SPRINGHILL

Womans Presbyterial of United Presbyterian Church Also Elects Officers Today

MEETING AT GLENWOOD ENDS

Mrs. Willard Riley of Milroy First Vice-Pres.; Mrs. Chester Fall of Mays Second Vice-Pres.

At the closing session of the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Woman's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church, Indiana Presbytery, in Glenwood this afternoon, Springhill was named as the next meeting place.

In the election of officers, Mrs. William Shannon of Indianapolis succeeded Mrs. Maggie Weir of Vevay as president. Rush county women obtained prominent offices in the organization, Mrs. Willard Riley of Milroy being named first vice-president and Mrs. Chester Fall of Mays, second vice-president. Miss Mary Fisher of this city, who was corresponding secretary last year was advanced to recording secretary and Mrs. Buckley of Princeton, Ind., named corresponding secretary. Mrs. Gertrude Lawrence of Princeton was re-elected treasurer.

One of the features of the convention not on the program was the pitch-in dinner at noon today at the home of Mrs. Marcus Kendall. The one hundred delegates in attendance at the convention and the three missionary societies enjoyed the pitch-in dinner.

The set program was followed at today's session of the convention. Miss Ethel Roxie Martin, a teacher in a girls' school at Cairo, Egypt, told of more of her experiences in Egypt. At the opening session last night Miss Martin spoke on the subject "Egypt, the Key to the East."

She pointed out the position of Egypt, geographically, historically and religiously, and described the three classes of people living there, telling of their mental development and pointing out their religious prejudices. Miss Martin has taught in the school maintained by the United Presbyterian church there for a period of seven years and her experience proved one of the most interesting parts of the program.

All of the eighteen churches in the Indiana Presbytery were represented at the convention by two or more delegates and all of the missionary societies of the church in this county were largely represented. Three churches sought the next convention and each was active trying to get next year's meeting. The First church of Indianapolis, the Mays church and the Carmel church sought the next meeting.

The business session was held this morning and continued this afternoon.

kins entertained with a well appointed high noon dinner, at their home in East First street. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. James Ball and family of Enid, Okla., Mrs. Tom Dill and daughter Emily and John K. Tompkins.

The members of the Epworth league of the M. E. church will be entertained with a wiener roast, Monday night in the woods near the S. B. Anderson home. All who have been attending the league are invited and will be guests of the cabinet members. Those intending to go will meet at the M. E. church at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening and will be taken out in automobiles provided for the purpose.

Mrs. John McCoy was completely surprised last evening, when twelve friends gathered at her home in East Sixth street and celebrated her birthday. The guests brought a large birthday cake lighted with candles and late in the evening refreshments were served. Mrs. McCoy received many beautiful and useful presents.

Fifteen members were in attendance at the Psi Iota Xi meeting last evening with Miss Marian Sparks, at her home in North Main street. Miss Jean McClannahan was the assistant hostess. During the business session the convention, which will be held in Columbus, Friday June 22 was discussed. Refreshments were

PREDICTS PASSAGE OF THE FOOD BILL

Those in Charge Feel Sure of it Though They Admit Revision May be Necessary

REPUBLICANS WILL CAUCUS

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 21.—That the food control bill would be passed by the congress within ten days was confidentially predicted by those in charge of the bill today. However, it may be necessary to revise the measure to agree with some of the views of those in the senate bitterly opposed.

The house agreed to end debate this afternoon. Representative Lever failed to get unanimous consent to end debate at once. Cannon said the bill should be discussed thoroughly and threatened trouble when he said a quorum should be present at all times.

Republicans will caucus tonight to decide a policy towards the bill and will discuss amendments. They were generally in favor of the bill.

Senator Chamberlain, in charge of the bill conferred with the agriculture department today regarding leaving out certain features Hoover has said he does not need and on which heavy opposition has centered. These include requisition of mines, factories and other plants in which necessities are produced.

Nineteen members were present, yesterday afternoon at the regular meeting of the Catholic Aid society, when it was entertained by Mrs. Charles Moorman, at her home in West First street. Mrs. Bert Moorman was the assistant hostess. During the business session the members decided to give money to the Red Cross. In two weeks the society will be entertained by Mrs. Michael Oneal.

ATTENTION Republicans

An election will be held in the sixth congressional district on to elect a congressman to succeed the late Daniel W. Comstock, who died recently. RICHARD N. ELLIOTT, of Connersville, a capable man of high attainments, who made an excellent record in the state legislature, has been nominated as the Republican candidate.

Every Republican in Rush county is strongly urged to go out and vote on JUNE 26, and to see that his neighbor votes. If the Republicans expect to carry the sixth district, they will have to go to the polls.

According to a new law, a voter who is unavoidably absent or ill on election day may vote with an absentee's blank. Republicans having friends who are sick or will be out of their home precincts June 26 are requested to go to the clerk's office in the court house where they can get an application and ballot to vote according to the absentee law.

REGISTRATION BOARD WILL BEGIN TOMORROW

There are many men who do not understand the law. Some believe because they were registered for the last general election and because they have not changed their residence they are not required to register at this session of the board. Such an idea is false as the old registration law was knocked completely out and it is absolutely necessary to register within the next sixty days in order to participate in the delegate election on September 18.

MILROY ONCE MORE IS SHOWING THE WAY

Anderson Township Women Begin Canning For Soldiers After Mrs. Harcourt Donates Strawberries

MANY OFFERS OF FOOD MADE

Milroy again leads the way. After starting the Red Cross War Relief fund campaign off with a whoop on Sunday night, the women of Anderson township this week are beginning active work to carry out the program of the women's county food conservation committee, which contemplates the canning of all the excess fruit and vegetables in the county and selling them at actual cost to the army.

The Anderson township committee, headed by Mrs. Charles T. Davis, sent word here that Mrs. Ed. Harcourt had given the committee a day's picking in her strawberry patch and that the Milroy women had commenced canning them. She reported that the women are so enthused that they are asking what they can do. The canning for the present will be done in private homes, but as soon as more crops come on—and many offers of food and vegetables have already been made, the women will work in the school house.

The members of the committee, besides Mrs. Davis, are: Mrs. Hugh Sparks, Mrs. Roy Lines, Mrs. Cliff Winship, Mrs. Will Jones, Mrs. William Bosley, Mrs. C. S. Hoagland, and Miss Emma Terhune.

DR. SEXTON TALKS TO GUARD COMPANY

One of Series of Addresses to Be Given At Wednesday Night Drills — Discusses Hygiene

CAPT. CAREY HERE SATURDAY

Dr. Sexton delivered a short address last night to the members of Company B. at the regular weekly drill at the city park speaking on "Hygiene." Dr. Sexton pointed out the benefits derived by the army men by keeping their bodies clean. The company had the largest attendance yet at a drill, 102 men being out. Dr. Sexton was well received. It is planned to have prominent men address the company each Wednesday and next week Judge Will M. Sparks will speak.

It was announced today that Capt. Carey would be at the company headquarters in the court house all day Saturday to examine men for the company. Thus far fourteen men are to be examined. The company lacks but sixteen men of being to war strength and Capt. Kiplinger and the officers are urging men to enlist in order that the company can be closed to recruiting.

Everybody who has ice cream cans and buckets belonging to Carons, please call 1300 and we will call when asked by the registrar either.

CARTHAGE ADDS $2,075 TO THE WAR RELIEF FUND

PARADE TO BE MADE TO COLISEUM

Plum Creek Raises $190 at Meeting Wednesday Night and Canvassers Work to Get More

OTHER TOWNSHIP MEETINGS

Will be Held at Osborne School in Jackson Township and Raleigh Friday Night

The report from Carthage where $1,706 was raised for war relief at a Red Cross mass meeting last night and the news of additions to the Anderson township war relief which today totalled more than $3,550, are expected to act as a stimulant to the Red Cross mass meeting at the Coliseum tonight and arouse Rushville and vicinity to do a fine thing in the campaign which is being waged this week for the Rush county allotment of $10,500 to the Red Cross War Relief fund of $100,000,000.

Carthage in a short time last night, after a brief address by E. B. Thomas, subscribed $1,706 and up to noon today the fund for that community had been raised to $1,825, the sum of $119 having been subscribed this morning. Judge Will M. Sparks conducted the raising of the money.

A war relief mass meeting was also held at Plum Creek where the Rev. C. M. Yocum and A. L. Gary spoke last night. Thirty-two members were added to the Plum Creek auxiliary and $190 was raised for war relief. The community has been distracted and canvassers will be busy the remainder of the week.

By Sunday night a Red Cross mass meeting in the interests of the war relief fund will have been held in every township but Richland and an effort is being made to arrange a meeting for that place some time this week.

The Center church meeting will be held Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock. The speakers for the meeting have not been announced. A meeting for the same purpose will be held at Raleigh Sunday afternoon and Friday night. A. L. Gary and E. B. Thomas will speak.

Preparations have been made for a big demonstration tonight at seven-thirty o'clock preceding the mass meeting at the Coliseum. The Odd Fellows band has donated its services and will lead the parade to the park. Every citizen is urged to take part and not stand on the sidelines and watch the marchers go by. It is pointed out by Red Cross workers that people can show their sincerity of purpose in helping the county raise its share in no better way than by marching and attending the meeting tonight.

The program at the Coliseum will be brief. Some patriotic songs will be sung and then the business of the meeting will be taken up promptly. E. B. Thomas will explain the purpose of the gathering briefly and the subscriptions will be opened. The team captains in Rushville township are expected to be stationed throughout the audience and supply subscription cards and report subscriptions to the platform. They are also held responsible for their team members being present to perform the same duties as they do.

The Carthage meeting last night was reported today by many Rushville people who attended to be an inspiration to them. The subscriptions started off with fifty dollars. Six gave this amount. The subscriptions ranged on down to as low as five dollars when the sum of $1,390 was reached. Calls were made for more to make the total $1,700 and enough responded in smaller subscriptions to make $1,706.

CONNERSVILLE WILL SEND BIG DELEGATION

Elliott Boosters, With a Band, Will Visit Rushville Friday Night for Harding Meeting

GREENSBURG TO SEND SOME

Word was received this morning that Connersville, home of Richard N. Elliott, republican candidate for congress, would send over a delegation of several hundred persons, headed by the Connersville boys' band, tomorrow night for the republican rally here when Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio will speak at the Coliseum. The delegation will not arrive until 7:37 so that the parade to the Coliseum will not start until 7:45. The republican campaign managers urged that all republicans either march or ride in machines to the Coliseum for the meeting. A delegation from Greensburg will also be here.

Two other meetings arranged for this county have been called off because of conflicts, which resulted in the trip of Senator Bert M. Fernald of Maine also being called off. He was to speak at Milroy Friday night and Glenwood Saturday night. It was decided not to hold these meetings because of the Harding meeting here Friday night and a Watson meeting at Connersville Saturday night.

Red Cross Fair Ready to Open

Booths Are Erected Today and Tent Put up For Home Talent Show, Which Will Include Jess Pugh, Hale Pearsey, Francis Coyne, Girls Chorus and Ukulele Club. Dance by Knights of Columbus Tonight

MANY ASK FOR BOOTHS NOW

Preparations were completed this afternoon for the opening tonight of the Red Cross fair, which will be held in and adjoining the Knights of Pythias building at the corner of Main and second streets. Booths were erected on the lawn facing the sidewalk on the north side of the building and Glen Miller's tent was erected in Morgan street in front of the K. of P. building for the home talent show.

All of the booths put up have been taken and many more demands for booths than can be filled have been received. In addition to those mentioned yesterday who will have booths, are: Queen Esther girls of St. Paul's M. E. church who will sell candy; Eddie Carter's crackerjack stand; John P. Frazee's class of girls of Christian Sunday school, who will sell flowers.

The women of the Red Cross auxiliaries at Glenwood and Plum Creek have announced that they will be at the fair Saturday and will conduct markets, selling farm produce of all kinds. The women of the New Salem auxiliary will also hold a market Saturday.

Arrangements have been completed for the Psi Iota Xi sorority to serve a lunch tomorrow evening instead of the usual penny supper, which will be given tonight by the Ladies Aid societies of the M. E. and Baptist churches and the W. R. C., and on Saturday night by the Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and Encampment.

Rushville's best talent will take part in the vaudeville show which will be staged for three successive nights, tonight, Friday and Saturday in the tent directly east of the K. of P. building, under the auspices of Psi Iota Xi. One show will be given this evening following the band concert, which will be given immediately after the mass meeting at the coliseum. Tomorrow and Saturday evening, several shows will be given. There will be changes of program for each evening.

Jess Pugh is training a chorus of girls for several unique little musical numbers, among them a clever "take-off" on grand opera in which Mr. Pugh takes the solo part. Hale Pearsey is to appear with some of his popular monologues and solos. Francis Coyne is to sing each evening. The "Black Eyed Susan" chorus which was a popular number in the Red Cross operetta given recently will be on the program with Miss Kathryn Giffin as soloist. The high school ukulele club will give several numbers, on Saturday evening.

SUBMARINE SUNK BY U. S. DESTROYER

U-Boat is Rammed When She is Sighted by One of American Flotilla in British Waters

GERMAN-BORN SAILOR HELPS

By J. W. PEGLER.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

With the American Naval Flotilla in British Waters, June 21.—A German submarine was rammed and sunk by an American destroyer after a German born American sailor pointed out the U-boat, according to stories told by the crew of the American vessel, which returned to port today. The submarine submerged immediately after she was sighted by the destroyer. The American vessel was so close to the spot where the submarine had been sighted that guns could not be used.

Sailors scanned the waters for the submarine. Finally the German born sailor pointed out the U-boat directly alongside the destroyer. The American vessel was immediately turned around and those on board declared they felt the collision, but even if the submarine was not rammed another anti-submarine device which was brought into use finished the work.

SUIT SEEKS TO PUT END TO TRUSTESHIP

Granddaughters of Late Augustus Glidden File Action, Raising New Question For Court

TRUSTEE AIKEN RESIGNS

A suit to terminate the trusteeship under the will of the late Augustus Glidden was filed in circuit court this afternoon, by Douglas Morris, representing Augusta B. Brownell and Mary S. Archer, granddaughters of the late Mr. Glidden. Mr. Glidden died in 1896 and in this will created a trust fund whereby the two plaintiffs were to receive the proceeds from 652 acres of land owned by him at the time of his death. The trusteeship has been in effect ever since and only recently Edson L. Aiken resigned as trustee and the estate is at present without a trustee.

The suit will prove an interesting one as the legal question regarding the termination of a trusteeship has never been in the court here. The plaintiffs allege that they came in rightful possession of the land when they reached the age of 21 years and that the trusteeship is contrary to the law of perpetuities. The defendants named in the suit are Amos F. Glidden, Mary Glidden, Frederick E. Glidden, Adaline C. Glidden, Helen M. Glidden, Julia Glidden, George Brownwell, Rozzie E. Archer and Ira Glidden.

Washington, June 21—Amidst the cheers of a small crowd, a banner denouncing the president and the former was exhausted and a Elihu Root, placed at a gate of the white house today by suffragists was ripped down by two men.

REGISTRATION TO BEGIN TOMORROW

Board Will Sit For Sixty Days, in Room on Second Floor of Court House

THREE WAYS TO REGISTER

Absolutely Imperative That Every Man and Woman Who Wants to Vote Should Register

The county registration board for the special election to be held on September 18 when delegates to the constitutional convention will be named, will open its sixty-day session tomorrow in the commissioner's room in the court house. It is imperative that all voters, both men and women, register if they wish to participate in the delegate election, as former registrations will not be taken into consideration.

The registration clerks are Miss Frances Frazee and Will Newbold. They will have actual charge of the registration and the work will be supervised by the registration board proper, composed of Clerk George B. Moore, Jr., Verne W. Norris and Donald Smith. All of the registration supplies have been received, including the blank forms and the books for the permanent record of the voters.

Three methods of registering will be followed at this session of the board. The voter may register by going in person before the board; by causing his application for registering properly made out and executed to be delivered by messenger to the board, and by mailing the application properly made to the board. In the last two methods it is necessary that the voter make oath or affirmation before some officer authorized to administer oaths and who has an official seal. A notary public can acknowledge the signature of the applicant and the form is then mailed to the board.

A fourth way to register is provided in the law but it will not be needed at this registration. Hereafter the registration books will be in the various precincts at a primary election and a voter moving or unregistered can register at that time. This, however, will have nothing to do with this registration.

The applications for registering contain a large number of questions. Before a voter's name is entered for registration he must cause the blank to be filled giving his full name, the county, city or town or township in which he resides; if he knows, he shall state the name or the number of the precinct, ward or township in which he resides; he shall state where he resided in the last two years, where he was born and the date of his or her birth; and also the place of residence two years prior to the making of the application.

HANDLES GRAY WITHOUT GLOVES

P. J. Lynch Recalls Democratic Candidate's Record in Congress as Opposed to Preparedness

ALWAYS VOTED AGAINST IT

Points to Candidate of Republican Party as Competent Man Sworn to Uphold Government

While the community social was being held at the M. P. church across the way, P. J. Lynch of Newcastle addressed a crowd of more than two hundred persons at the New Salem school house last night, advocating the election of Richard N. Elliott of Connersville, republican candidate for congress.

The republicans took the band to New Salem and a short concert was given in front of the school building and in the auditorium. John A. Titworth presided and introduced the speaker. The chairman said that in this brief campaign, the small guns had been dropped and the republicans were using the 42 centimeters to emphasize the importance of the issues.

Mr. Lynch handled Finly Gray's record during his six years in congress without gloves. He recalled that while in congress, Gray was one of the leaders of the anti-preparedness group, whose opposition to preparedness is responsible for the United States not being prepared today to share its part of the war.

"I have known the generosity of Rush county people before," said Mr. Lynch, "when I was a candidate for congress, but now I am a private in the ranks."

"These are war times. It is hard to make a campaign speech. In these times we are neither republicans or democrats but want to uphold the hands of the president. I am also conscious of this. These are busy times on the farm. You are behind in your work. For that reason it is a splendid sign to see so many men and women here after a busy day in the fields to hear a discussion of the issues. So after all, it appears that it is not partisanship but patriotism that impels men—a desire to do what is right for their country."

"I am here to discuss whether Mr. Elliott or Mr. Gray is the better man to elect to congress. I am competent to judge because I have had the honor to run against Mr. Gray. I wish to say that Mr. Gray is not competent."

"The republican party built up the defenses of the country and when the democratic party came into power, it began to tear them down. The work of years for preparedness was undermined. Mr. Gray voted against a preparedness program when opportunity was given to him. Do we want to send a

SUM OF $81.60 IS TAKEN IN

New Salem had the largest crowd in its history last night; everyone freely admitted that last night. The community social, augmented by a political meeting, took hundreds of people to the fine little village in the center of Noble township where they enjoyed a fine program and ate ice cream and cake until the supply of machine had to be sent back to Rushville for more. The sum of $81.60 was taken in.

The ice cream festival was given by the Methodist Protestant church of New Salem in conjunction with the Rushville merchants. The number of automobiles going from here for the festival was conservatively estimated at one hundred. The streets leading to the church were jammed with machines until traffic was stopped.

A short program was given in the church after the political meeting closed. B. F. Miller complimented the people of New Salem and vicinity on the fine crowd and the excellent spirit which prevailed at the community meeting. He spoke of the reputation New Salem and vicinity had for good farms, fine homes and

Able-Bodied Men Compelled to Engage in Some Recognized Profession

(By United Press.)

Charleston, W. Va., June 21.—Everybody worked—including father—in West Virginia today. Each consumer was a producer, as well as a law violator.

Under a law just made effective, every able-bodied man in West Virginia, between the ages of 16 and 60 must engage in some recognized occupation, profession, or employment and contribute to the support of himself and those dependent upon him. Unless men within the prescribed ages work 36 hours a week they are vagrants under the law, which was actively enforced today for the first time. Vagrants are subject to a $100 fine and may be placed at work on the public streets for 60 days or less.

Rich and poor alike are affected—and clipping coupons isn't listed among the legitimate occupations. Fate choose Mike Duty to Father the law, and of course, it's called the Duty law. It had the active support of the State council of Defense and the sanction of the national authorities; for it's an anti-slacker measure. Any male found in the state, whether a citizen of West Virginia or not, is bound by the law.

Advance in Prices Worldwide

The advance in prices, so keenly realized by all the people of the United States, is by no means peculiar to this country, or even to the countries in which war conditions are looked upon as the immediate cause of the higher prices. From the tea fields of Java and India, the tin mines of the Malayan Peninsula, the silk areas of China and Japan, the sugar fields of Java, Hawaii and Cuba, the sisal plantations of the Orient, the champagne producing area of France, the cotton fields of Egypt and even the diamond mines of South Africa, come statistical proof of advance in prices of their respective products.

A compilation by the National City Bank of New York of the prices at which varied products of these widely distributed areas are being sold in the places of production, shows that the advance in prices is general.

The United States has peculiar facilities for determining the prices of the world-products in their respective places of production. Her customs laws require that the valuations at which merchandise is imported shall be those of the merchandise in the country from which exported to the United States and not the value on reaching the port at which it enters this country. Thus, the values named by the importers of any article, from any part of the world, must be the price at which the goods were sold in the place from which exported to this country, or if the importer does not choose to name the price which he paid for it, then the average price of the article in the wholesale markets of the port from which it was shipped to this country is used in determining the value.

So it is quite feasible to determine the average price at which any given article or class of articles is sold in any country from which imported, and at the same time determine the average world export price, by comparing the total quantity of all the importations of the article in question with the total valuation placed upon it by the importers of the entire quantity.

Such comparisons show in a very large proportion of the cases marked increases in the values, at the place of production, of the merchandise brought into the country. Raw cotton, for example, most of it from Egypt, was imported in March, 1917, at an average price of 31.8 cents per lb. against 16.3 cents in March 1914, a date immediately preceding the war, and these, be it remembered, represent the export price at the port or country from which sent to us. Sisal imports in March of the current year were $302 per ton against $117 in March 1914; copper 29.5c per lb. against 14.1c three years earlier; goat skins 62.2c per lb., against 25.7c three years earlier; choose at an average of 34c per lb., against 17.5c; flax seed at $2.39 per bushel against $1.29; beans at $5.21 per bushel against $1.56; potatoes at $1.77 against 72c three years ago; indigo, at $2.00 per lb., against 15c per lb., in the same months in 1914; logwood at $36.00 per ton against $11.00; combing wool at 48c against 24.6c in March 1914; lead at 6.5c per lb., against 3c; copper at 23.3c against 14.1c three years ago; cotton stockings at $3.27 per dozen paid against $1.27 in March 1914; sugar at exactly double the price of three years ago; currants at an advance of 300%; while cattle hides, manila hemp, raw silk, India rubber, tin, lumber, cotton and woolen cloth and many other articles show advances, some of them as much as 100%. All of these advances occur in the price at which the merchandise in question was sold in the country from which exported to the United States.

Deliver Us From Hatred

There is one vital point upon which we as citizens must guard ourselves in the great contest before us, and that is that there grow not up in our hearts a spirit of hatred toward those in our midst with foreign blood in their veins.

We have said that we are not to prosecute a war of revenge, but a contest for right and justice. This sentiment comes easy enough at this time. The danger will come later, when the real shock of war is felt and grim death fans us with his sable wings as he takes a sin from this home and a husband or brother from that one.

Americans can not afford to harbor hatred, and especially can they not afford animosity toward our citizens of foreign descent. If the citizen of Teutonic blood is loyal to our country, though he grieve at the necessity for war with his fatherland, his burden is heavy enough without the added knowledge or suspicion that he is viewed with antagonism and distrust.

There are some who are unquestionably traitors to the land of their adoption, but they will soon come to their just end. Time will efface them. But their acts should not prejudice in our minds those who are loyal and who are staunchly supporting the government, even though it be with hearts saddened by regrets.

If Americans are even approximately true to their ideals they will not permit the loyal to suffer for the acts of the disloyal. To do so would be to defeat the very aims in view in the struggle before us.

We now are impelled by one consuming desire, the freedom of humanity in its broadest sense, and the greatest freedom to which we can attain is freedom of heart from rancor and bitterness.

No great cause was ever won without martyrdom. Some must suffer greatly, all must suffer some. It is nature's way in which she works out human redemption. But if bitterness and hatred is permitted to creep into the martyrdom and suffering, their uplifting and purifying influence is nullified.

Let us pray to be delivered from all bitterness, that when the contest is ended even our foes may be brought to the light as we see it.

Slackers who sneaked away from registering June 5, and now find themselves facing prison sentences and compulsory military service at the end of their incarceration, will get no sympathy from the public at large. Instead, they will be viewed with scorn and disgust, and to their dying day they will carry the obloquy with which they smeared them-

The prices on buggies are advancing every day and there is no way to stop it. The only remedy is to buy where they have a supply that was purchased before any advance was placed on them. I have the buggies and the price is the same as it was the first of the year. Do you want to save some money on a buggy? If you do, see me. Then again I want you to listen—I have two cars of storm buggies bought. One car will be in about July 1st, and they are the well and favorably known, Zimmerman line, the one line of buggies that no dealer can tell you is not the best to be had. The Zimmerman buggy is the best built buggy and has been for years, and is well known in Rush County, and every man that ever owned a Zimmerman buggy will tell you they give satisfaction. The price I am able to quote you on these storm buggies will interest you, but don't wait until these are sold before you investigate the proposition. Senreco
The double-service tooth paste,

keeps teeth clean AND GUMS HEALTHY.

Keeping the gums healthy and the mouth sweet is very important to health; more teeth are lost through the loosening of the tissue that holds the teeth in place than from decay.

Dental science to-day demands that a tooth paste must keep the gums healthy as well as clean the teeth.

Senreco was formulated to meet this requirement. Hundreds of dentists are prescribing and using Senreco because they have found that it does measure up to that standard.

SENRECO IS A WONDERFUL CLEANSER.

In addition to its remedial properties Senreco is a wonderful cleanser; acts directly on the enamel film, the basis of tartar; leaves the mouth cool and clean-feeling. As some one has expressed it—Senreco gives one a new idea on mouth cleanliness.

Get a tube to-day at your druggists or toilet counter—enjoy the healthy, cleanly feeling its use gives your mouth and gums. Notice how brilliantly white Senreco makes your teeth. It performs this two-fold service for you and yet costs no more than the ordinary, old-fashioned tooth paste that simply cleans the teeth and leaves a pleasant taste—25 cents for a large 2 ounce tube.

man to congress who voted against the very bulwarks of the government?"

Mr. Lynch referred to a conversation he had with Mr. Elliott the Sunday after he was nominated in which the republican candidate said that he would support the government and uphold the president and was for a quick and successful termination of the war.

Mr. Lynch spoke only thirty-five minutes. He closed with a brief review of the economic conditions in the United States after the democrats came in power and before the war opened and emphasized the need of a protective tariff after the war.

"Here we are enjoying an abnormal prosperity," he continued. "Do you think it will continue? Three millions of men now employed in making munitions will be looking for jobs now held by someone else when the war ends. That is the reason why we will need a republican congress to enact a wise tariff to protect our industries and our laboring men."

Mr. Lynch recalled that when the democrats came into power in 1912, after the wise legislation of the republican congress, with all bills paid and the Panama canal practically completed, they found a balance of $176,000,000 in the treasury. In one short year of democratic policies, he said, there was a deficit in the treasury of $50,000,000 and in eighteen months many millions more. On every one of these measures, reducing the U. S. treasury to a large deficit, Mr. Gray voted yes, the speaker recalled. He cited the effects of the Underwood tariff law and pointed out how the war saved the day for the democratic party by converting the United States into a nation of munitions makers. He pointed out that Germany was fighting the world and sustaining herself and that England, for a thousand years, had been able to sustain herself without a hostile foot being set on her shores. He then asked if anyone thought these nations would need the help of the United States after all of the

SPECIMEN SENT TO PURDUE

A new pest, at least one not known to the farmers in that locality, has appeared in Posey township in the form of a small worm which is destroying some of the corn. The worm attacks the corn from the top, eating its way down to the heart of the stock.

A twenty-acre field of new ground on the farm of John K. Gowdy on which a crop of rye was turned under this spring and planted in corn on May 28, has been so seriously injured as to necessitate it being plowed up and replanted. Within three days after its appearance in the field of corn, the entire crop was practically destroyed.

The worms first appeared in the corn on low lying land when the ground was very damp from the recent rains, and in a few days they spread over the entire field.

The pest, specimens of which have been forwarded to Purdue university, is in the form of a small worm about one inch long, light in color on both ends and dark in the center.

efficient methods they had learned because of the war.

"It is the duty of every person," he declared in conclusion, "to go to the polls next Tuesday and help to guarantee the peace and perpetuity of this republic and vote for Mr. Elliott. The republican party was never needed before as in this crisis and the one that will follow after the war."

NEXT MEETING AT SPRINGHILL

Womans Presbyterial of United Presbyterian Church Also Elects Officers Today

MEETING AT GLENWOOD ENDS

Mrs. Willard Riley of Milroy First Vice-Pres.; Mrs. Chester Fall of Mays Second Vice-Pres.

At the closing session of the thirty-fifth annual convention of the Woman's Missionary society of the United Presbyterian church, Indiana Presbytery, in Glenwood this afternoon, Springhill was named as the next meeting place.

In the election of officers, Mrs. William Shannon of Indianapolis succeeded Mrs. Maggie Weir of Ve-vay as president. Rush county women obtained prominent offices in the organization, Mrs. Willard Riley of Milroy being named first vice-president and Mrs. Chester Fall of Mays, second vice-president. Miss Mary Fisher of this city, who was corresponding secretary last year was advanced to recording secretary and Mrs. Buckley of Princeton, Ind., named corresponding secretary. Mrs. Gertrude Lawrence of Princeton was re-elected treasurer.

One of the features of the convention not on the program was the pitch-in dinner at noon today at the home of Mrs. Marcus Kendall. The one hundred delegates in attendance at the convention and the three missionary societies enjoyed the pitch-in dinner.

The set program was followed at today's session of the convention. Miss Ethel Roxie Martin, a teacher in a girls' school at Cairo, Egypt, told of more of her experiences in Egypt. At the opening session last night Miss Martin spoke on the subject "Egypt, the Key to the East."

She pointed out the position of Egypt, geographically, historically and religiously, and described the three classes of people living there, telling of their mental development and pointing out their religious prejudices. Miss Martin has taught in the school maintained by the United Presbyterian church there for a period of seven years and her experience proved one of the most interesting parts of the program.

All of the eighteen churches in the Indiana Presbytery were represented at the convention by two or more delegates and all of the missionary societies of the church in this county were largely represented. Three churches sought the next convention and each was active trying to get next year's meeting. The First church of Indianapolis, the Mays church and the Carmel church sought the next meeting.

The business session was held this morning and continued this afternoon.

kins entertained with a well appointed high noon dinner, at their home in East First street. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. James Ball and family of Enid, Okla., Mrs. Tom Dill and daughter Emily and John K. Tompkins.

The members of the Epworth league of the M. E. church will be entertained with a wiener roast, Monday night in the woods near the S. B. Anderson home. All who have been attending the league are invited and will be guests of the cabinet members. Those intending to go will meet at the M. E. church at 6:30 o'clock Monday evening and will be taken out in automobiles provided for the purpose.

Mrs. John McCoy was completely surprised last evening, when twelve friends gathered at her home in East Sixth street and celebrated her birthday. The guests brought a large birthday cake lighted with candles and late in the evening refreshments were served. Mrs. McCoy received many beautiful and useful presents.

Fifteen members were in attendance at the Psi Iota Xi meeting last evening with Miss Marian Sparks, at her home in North Main street. Miss Jean McClannahan was the assistant hostess. During the business session the convention, which will be held in Columbus, Friday June 22 was discussed. Refreshments were

PREDICTS PASSAGE OF THE FOOD BILL

Those in Charge Feel Sure of it Though They Admit Revision May be Necessary

REPUBLICANS WILL CAUCUS

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 21.—That the food control bill would be passed by the congress within ten days was confidentially predicted by those in charge of the bill today. However, it may be necessary to revise the measure to agree with some of the views of those in the senate bitterly opposed.

The house agreed to end debate this afternoon. Representative Lever failed to get unanimous consent to end debate at once. Cannon said the bill should be discussed thoroughly and threatened trouble when he said a quorum should be present at all times.

Republicans will caucus tonight to decide a policy towards the bill and will discuss amendments. They were generally in favor of the bill.

Senator Chamberlain, in charge of the bill conferred with the agriculture department today regarding leaving out certain features Hoover has said he does not need and on which heavy opposition has centered. These include requisition of mines, factories and other plants in which necessities are produced.

Mrs. Bert Moorman was the assistant hostess. During the business session the members decided to give money to the Red Cross. In two weeks the society will be entertained by Mrs. Michael Oneal.

ATTENTION Republicans

An election will be held in the sixth congressional district on to elect a congressman to succeed the late Daniel W. Comstock, who died recently. RICHARD N. ELLIOTT, of Connersville, a capable man of high attainments, who made an excellent record in the state legislature, has been nominated as the Republican candidate.

Every Republican in Rush county is strongly urged to go out and vote on JUNE 26, and to see that his neighbor votes. If the Republicans expect to carry the sixth district, they will have to go to the polls.

According to a new law, a voter who is unavoidably absent or ill on election day may vote with an absentee's blank. Republicans having friends who are sick or will be out of their home precincts June 26 are requested to go to the clerk's office in the court house where they can get an application and ballot to vote according to the absentee law.

REGISTRATION BOARD WILL BEGIN TOMORROW

There are many men who do not understand the law. Some believe because they were registered for the last general election and because they have not changed their residence they are not required to register at this session of the board. Such an idea is false as the old registration law was knocked completely out and it is absolutely necessary to register within the next sixty days in order to participate in the delegate election on September 18.

MILROY ONCE MORE IS SHOWING THE WAY

MANY OFFERS OF FOOD MADE

Milroy again leads the way. After starting the Red Cross War Relief fund campaign off with a whoop on Sunday night, the women of Anderson township this week are beginning active work to carry out the program of the women's county food conservation committee, which contemplates the canning of all the excess fruit and vegetables in the county and selling them at actual cost to the army.

The Anderson township committee, headed by Mrs. Charles T. Davis, sent word here that Mrs. Ed. Harcourt had given the committee a day's picking in her strawberry patch and that the Milroy women had commenced canning them. She reported that the women are so enthused that they are asking what they can do. The canning for the present will be done in private homes, but as soon as more crops come on—and many offers of food and vegetables have already been made, the women will work in the school house.

The members of the committee, besides Mrs. Davis, are: Mrs. Hugh Sparks, Mrs. Roy Lines, Mrs. Cliff Winship, Mrs. Will Jones, Mrs. William Bosley, Mrs. C. S. Hoagland, and Miss Emma Terhune.

One of Series of Addresses to Be Given At Wednesday Night Drills — Discusses Hygiene

CAPT. CAREY HERE SATURDAY

Dr. Sexton delivered a short address last night to the members of Company B. at the regular weekly drill at the city park speaking on "Hygiene." Dr. Sexton pointed out the benefits derived by the army men by keeping their bodies clean. The company had the largest attendance yet at a drill, 102 men being out. Dr. Sexton was well received. It is planned to have prominent men address the company each Wednesday and next week Judge Will M. Sparks will speak.

It was announced today that Capt. Carey would be at the company headquarters in the court house all day Saturday to examine men for the company. Thus far fourteen men are to be examined. The company lacks but sixteen men of being to war strength and Capt. Kiplinger and the officers are urging men to enlist in order that the company can be closed to recruiting.

Everybody who has ice cream cans and buckets belonging to Carons, please call 1300 and we will call.

APPAREL so often reflects a success that we have become accustomed to associating the well dressed man with accomplishment.

Of course, this applies inversely. Handicapped is he who though capable destroys the impression of capability through carelessness in his wardrobe.
